Accident at Falls Field -- 1 Boy over a Precipice of One Hundred Feet, and Alive.

A serious accident took place at the Great Genessee Falls in this city, yesterday alternoon. A couple of hoys aged about fitteen years, went to Falls Field about 3 P. M. and like many others, repaired to the Pagoda to look at the Fall, where it could be done with perfect salety. Falls Field, the River bank, in fact, the streets of the city were o glazed over by frozen rains as to ren-

A. J. MOREY, Editor.

MAY LLE TION. We are author zed to announce ALEXANDER C. CASEY, no independent candidate for Constable in the 1-t. District.

W Mesers Garrett, Spears & Co. present themselves to the public, in our advertising columns, in their annual New Year's Card. They promise to furnish goods to their customers, for the current year, upon the best possible terms. Doing a very large business which has been constantly and rapidly increasing. They can afford to sell more cheaply than it their sales were more restrained, and they hope by still further endarging their trade, to be able to put down prices still lower than they have ever been able to do hitherto .-Buying goods in very large quantities, they are enabled to buy at lower rates. and, consequently to sell proportionately lower, and selling in large quantities they can afford to sell at smaller profits. If their sales amount to $75,000 per year, as we presume they do, they can be satisfied with a smaller prolit than when they announced to not more than forty for fifty thousand dellars. They promise to govern their trade according to these principles, and if they do, the people will seen find it out, for custom ers seek places where the best bargains are to be had.

The house is fully supplied with ac commodating and gentlemanly salesmen, who are always ready to wait npon all comers, but are especially gracous to the ladies as they ought to

Suffering in Cincinnati-

When we see with what want and paign. Although we have not room for misery, the people of Cincinnati are now the speech in our columns, we would afflicted, on account of the scarcity of carnestly advise every person who wish fuel, we are satisfied that the poorest and es to know the truth upon a very imhumblest persons who live out in the portant subject to read it. It is certaincountry, ought to be glad that it has ly one of the ablest expositions of the pleased God thus to cast their lot. No true attitude of the supporters of Mr. wander is it that poverty in the country Buchanan, upon the squatter sovereignty is considered the emblem of virtue, and in the city as a temptation to crime, for It shows conclusively that the position in the one place its yoke is light and eaof the northern Buchanan men, is entiresy to carry, and in the other it is a bur ly variant from that of the southern den that would oppress a galley slave -Buchanan men on this subject; that the The Ohio river, the avenue by which most of the fuel is brought into the city ty is a correct doctrine, while the latter of Cincinnati, is now frozen and closed hold it to be nothing but abolitionism in and enough wood and coal to supply the disguise and the more dangerous by far wants of the people, cannot therefore. because the more insidious. Southern be brought there. The price of fuel has democrats do denounce it as abiditionism consequently risen so high that none but persons in good circumstances can afan attack on the institutions of the south ford to buy it. The poor of course, are as the incendiary principles avowed by bound to suffer. The accounts the papers give of the distress prevailing in the city, are really horrible. Little boys are seen going along on the street crying. and when asked what is the matter, they reply that their parents, brothers and call in question the integrity and sisters, are at home suffering for the want of fire and food, that they have had nothing to eat that day for the want hand means, which the northern fanatics of fire to cook it with. Families are seen sitting in cold cheerless rooms with their bed clothes around them to keep their country, and the property of their them warm. Frail women are seen on sauthern tellaw citizens. Thus it is that the street leading their little children, squatter sovereignty and its advocates ane begging for a basket of coal, while are characterized by the administration crowds of well to do citizens, who are able to pay for whatever they get, are seen hanging around the points where fuel is to be procured, clamoring for who shall be first served. Various are the conjectures of individuals as to the canse of the scarcity. Some believe here is plenty of wood and coal in the city to supply the wants of all at a reaonable price, but that rich dealers have baught up all the fuel to make the scarcay seem greater than it really is, and thus to make fortunes out of the necessities of the people. Others attribute the general distress to the monopolizing and grin ling spirit of the Railroad company ies, who, they say, could give immediate elief to the people if they would consent to bring wood and easl into the city at a reasonable price for their trouble. However, this may be, the benev dent spirit displayed by many of the Railroad com panies, is truly noble. We believe they have nearly all proved the falsity of the charges uttered against them, by offering for the city, free of charge, the use of their roads and all their rolling stock. adapted to the purpose, for the transpor lation of coal and wood, until the river opens and the scarcity is at an end. Divers plans have been suggested to prevent the recurrence of such difficulties in future, none of which will, as we think question. What is meant by "squatter prove effectual, because there is not enough money at the bottom of them .of a territory through the Territorial We earnestly hope, however, that some means may be designed that will allay the fears of the good people of Cincin nati; that they may never again by any possibility witness and experience such fearful distresses. None. If the same person would take his gold to a mechanie, and have a tea service made of it, and then pay the mechanic for his ly to the grinding shill, as in other Mills. labour, would he have any right to say place of legs, thus removing the liability of should use it, or if he hired it to his n'ighbor, what hire he should charge? An absurdity so glaring, as to say the gold smith would have the right to prescribe its use or terms of hiring it out, by the owner, would not be contended for by any sane man. Because the government has monopolized the exclusive right to coin money, and excluded all others from so doing, what greater rights ias she by virtue of her monopoly than private person would have? We confess that with the mental optics, we possess we have not been able to see. According to our view of the matter, the egislature has just as much right to say what shall be the price of hogs or cattle, or any other property, as to say what ate of interest a man shall have for the oan of his money. 1. We obtain increased capacity, with decreased diameter, by the use of double cones, thus economizing the power employed, and spreading the wear over so great a surface that he has just received and will keep constantly on its effect is hardly perceptible, even after grinding many thousand bushels.

2. No nil or grease being required on any part of the machine, we avoid the trouble of greasing, and the possibility of damage by careless attendance.

3. We attach the lever to a separate piece or "criver," and thus relieve the Mill from ir. ritation caused by the weight of levers, and by irregular strains when they are attached direct-how many times per day the owner breakage of legs, and at the same time firmioning a safe reservoir for nieal, without additional expense or trouble. 5. The arrangement by which we can, in moment, change the Mill from a "double" to a single one, or vice versa, thus adapting the Mill to the amount of power at hand, enabling the operator to work a two-horse Mill with one horse when necessary.

6. The superiority of the cob-breaking and crushing arrangement, which enables us to dean large a proportion of the work mear the center of the Mill, thereby saving power.

7. The great strength which is secured i the Improved Mill, by the peculiar shape and arrangement of the whole, and by long experience in the selection and composition of metal for this particular me, which embles us to warrant against breakage, or camage to the granding parts, when nails, sticks, bricks, pebbles, o other hard substances, liable to be among the corn, accidentally find their way into the Mill.

And last, but by no means least to be considered, this Mill is not injured in the least by being allowed to run empty.
